

STUDENTS, SODOMY, AND THE STATE LGBT CAMPUS STRUGGLES IN THE 1970s

Historian Marc Stein discusses how new gay student groups fought for recognition in the 1970s and analyzes the tactics they used to secure recognition by their institutions. He will discuss his work on the “Out on Campus” exhibit (in Skillman Library from March 20 to April 7, 2023) and the recent growth of projects that queer the history of higher education.

TUESDAY, MARCH 21, 2023
7 PM, KIRBY HALL 104

Marc Stein is Pasker Professor of History at San Francisco State University and director of OutHistory, the leading LGBTQ history website. He is the author of numerous books on Queer activism in the U.S., most recently Queer Public History: Essays on Scholarly Activism (2022) and The Stonewall Riots: A Documentary History (2019).

